

Jimmy Young

If you like Marvin Gaye, Al Green, Ben E. King, Luther Vandross, Smokey Robinson, Lionel Ritchie.... you're going to love listening to Jimmy Young.

Jimmy Young is a Singer, Songwriter, and Entertainer originally from Baltimore Maryland. He has shared the stage with such greats as The Temptations, The O'Jays, The Stylistics, Sam Moore (Sam and Dave), and his long time friend Ben E. King, to name a few. He has also been featured on Canada's Much Music program "Electric Circus".

In the 80's Ben E. King introduced Jimmy to Rock & Roll Hall of Fame inductee, Producer and Arranger Bob Gallo. While working at CBS and Atlantic Records in the 60's, 70's and 80's, Bob Gallo produced such greats as James Brown, Patti LaBelle, Ben E. King, The Nylons, Solomon Burke, The Young Rascals and many other well-known Recording Artists. Bob Gallo immediately recognized Jimmy's great talent. That was the beginning of a long term Writing, Recording and personal friendship which continues to this day.

In 1988 Jimmy released a cover of Bad Company's "Can't Get Enough Of Your Love" which charted #20 across the USA. Jimmy followed up over the next two years with three charted Singles titled "Love Sweet Love", "Two Lovers" and "Supernatural Thing" which became a Club "FAV" in Europe, USA and Canada.

In 2001, Lost Gold Records signed Jimmy Young. The label released "Heartbreaker", an 18 track CD of original material written by Jimmy Young and Bob Gallo. Within months of this US release, Falcon Records of Germany signed Jimmy to a distribution and promotion deal for Europe.

Here's what they say about Jimmy...

"His CD titled "Heartbreaker" takes the listener on a musical journey with tracks like "More Than My Heart Could Stand." Jimmy's delivery of this song is excellent! You can feel the emotion deep in your soul. And "Heaven Was Meant For Angels. " WOWWWWW!.... that's all I can say."
